

What is the purpose of the Environmental Health Research Network & Workshop?

17 August 2009

11h25-1140

Purpose of the Network

- Strengthen environmental health research in South Africa
- Encourage collaboration & idea sharing to augment results for meaningful impact
- Gain a better understanding of the environmental health baseline of South Africa

Goal

To identify the gaps in environmental health research in South Africa through a collaborative network of sharing ideas

Purpose of the Workshop

- To bring together researchers in environmental health to meet face-to-face
- To foster relationships for future collaborations
- To see who you can talk to when you're grappling with an environmental health research-related issue
